has given him greater confidence. Mc-Loughlin still holds Larned up as the greatest player in the world, and for that very reason it is to be hoped that Larned will be disposed of in the Newport tournament before McLaughlin gets into a bracket with the champion.
It may be that the local youngster is as good a player as the veteran, but he has so much respect for Larned's ability, that he would probably be beaten before he stepped upon the courts.

MAUI DOWNS

The first army score came in the third, when Doak, who played hard, fast polo throughout the game, shot a pretty goal off Hanson's centering shot. Both sides scored in the fourth, Collins and Hanson turning the trick.
The fifth period found the Cavalry still hopeful and ready to get in some hard licks after the long rest. But it was at this time that Maui really woke up to play the game, and whatever good resolutions the Leliehua players made during the intermission vanished into thin air when the Valley Islanders commenced to slam the ball in earnest.

Frank Baldwin, who hadn't been playing his best game in the first half seemed to get back the full use of a damaged wrist, and commenced to crack the willow to good effect, while David Fleming gave an exhibition of some of the cleverest stick work ever seen on the local field.

The first part of the fifth period was wildly exciting, the Cavalry, knocking up, pressing the Maui goal repeatedly. Maui then turned the tables, but twice Cavalry players nipped the ball out from directly in front of the posts and carried it up the field out of danger. These brilliant saves gave the Army supporters something really worth while to cheer over.

Maui was not to be long denied, however, and finally Collins shot the maui goal just before the bell rang.

The score was made after a couple of misses by his teammates, and was a brilliant bit of individual stick work.

Harold Rice scored the only goal of the sixth period through the mauka sticks, just after the Cavalry had saved one threatened by Frank Baldwin. Nearly all the play after this was in the lower field, but the Cavalry players were making a desperate defense, and time and again turned off shots that looked like certain scores.

Captain Forsyth at this stage of the game did some fine work in meeting swift balls with forehead shots out of danger zone.

Fleming's Fine Work.
The seventh saw David Fleming doing some spectacular stick work. He hit near side or off side, backhand or forehand with equal facility, and at one time took the ball two-thirds the length of the field uphill, in the midst of a tangle of ponies and sticks. He seemed to snare the ball out of the worst mix-up with ease, and his work, together with the Baldwin-Rice goal before referred to, was the feature of the period.

Rice and Baldwin together made another fine goal uphill, just after they had scored at the lower end.
Baldwin on Blue Boy made a strong run, hitting the ball far and true, and when he was ridden off Rice was there to give it the final crack.

Collins' pony went down in this period, but there was no damage done.

The eighth and final period opened with a goal by Frank Baldwin's pony Blackbird, and immediately afterwards Sheridan scored for the Cavalry. The army men then made a distinct brace, Forsyth taking the ball up the field and giving Sheridan a chance to score, which, however, he missed. Maui then ran the ball down the field, Baldwin scoring, and just before the bell rang Rice put the final goal through the upper sticks, with a clever shot under his pony's neck.

No Rough Work.
The game was cleanly played throughout, and there was no rough or dangerous riding.

A big weekday crowd turned out for the sport, about 175 motor cars being arranged in triple tiers on the Iwa side of the field. Of course, Leilehua was out in force, and had there been a chance to cheer for the Cav-

HONESTY

By GEORGE FITCH

Honesty is so hard to define that most people do not tackle the job except for the benefit of their neighbors.
The dictionary, which is one of the most successful side-steppers, says "honesty is freedom from fraud or guile." It forgets to mention that honesty usually means freedom from money also.

The proverb says honesty is the best policy. It is amazing to see how many people have a horror of playing policy.

The old Spartans admired honesty greatly. Stealing was honest in their eyes, but getting caught with the goods was a great crime. The recent bribery investigations have revealed the fact that the United States Senate is full of Spartans.

Some men are so honest that they will not steal a man's money so long as they can get it by selling him stock in a defunct gold mine. Other men would shudder with horror at the thought of selling decayed, mining stock when the same results can be obtained in a perfectly legal manner by borrowing the money and going into bankruptcy with no visible assets.

Many men are so honest that they will not steal a pin. But they would hold the coat of a personal friend while he stole a battleship. Still others decline to steal anything at all, preferring to leave the job to litigation, which usually gives excellent satisfaction.

There are also men with whom you could trust your watch with perfect safety, but who would take a stock company away from you with a merry laugh.

Some men are honest in small things, because there is no profit in piker pilfering. Others are honest in large things, because there is less risk in small packages.

Thus it is to be seen plainly that the standards of honesty vary as widely as plurality guesses by leaders of opposite parties. Standards vary in Legislatures also. In some the members are so honest that they will only sell their votes for political support. In others the members will not accept money and would indignantly return the bundles they find in their pockets if they had time and could remember to do it. In still others, when a member doesn't pawn his desk and chair, he runs for reelection on his good record.

It will not do for us to judge the honesty of others by our own—for others are judging our honesty by theirs and are looking at us with horror as they do so.

The object is to suggest legislation so thoroughly non-partisan as to secure Congressional consideration on broad lines to better Army conditions, modernize military methods and reconcile extreme claims.

Concerning that Congress is not likely to consider at this session a complete reorganization scheme, officials today expressed the hope that the conflicting elements which caused a veto of the regular Army appropriation bill would consent to postpone a renewal of the controversies, meantime allowing the bill of last year to remain in force throughout the present fiscal year.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer says:
"The first step toward carrying out the Berlin radio-telegraphed agreement on the Pacific Ocean was taken yesterday by R. H. Armstrong, general manager of the United Wireless Telegraph Company, when he ordered new lists of call letters compiled in accordance with the ruling of the several governments placed in the hands of every operator in the employ of his company."

"In the past the wireless companies have assigned call letters to the vessels they equip with the result that there have been many duplications and at times great confusion. The United States bureau of navigation has taken a prominent part in working out the agreement with other countries, and more than 80 per cent. of the American shipowners have agreed to adopt the plan."

Each Vessel to Have its Call.
"The bureau of navigation has completed arrangements with the Berne bureau for the assignment of call letters to American wireless ship and shore stations. American vessels and shore stations will thus become part of a world-wide system of radio communication, each vessel and shore station having its own call letter or letters which can be recognized by the wireless ship and shore station of all nations."

The change to the new system will involve temporary inconvenience to operators, but this will be offset by the advantage of having a wireless call system intelligible to all the world.

"The international bureau has assigned series of call letters beginning with K and W to American merchant vessels and yachts, and with N to the United States navy. The W group of letters has been assigned to vessels plying the Pacific, and the K group to vessels plying the Atlantic."

How Calls Are Arranged.
"It has been the aim to arrange, as far as practicable, the two remaining letters of the call, so that the same second letter or letters shall be assigned to vessels of the same line. The third letter or letters will be the vessels' distinctive call."

"For instance, a steamship line operated on the Pacific has five vessels equipped with wireless. The first wireless call letter will be W, indicating an American vessel on the Pacific; the second would be Q S, or any other letter or letters adopted to distinguish the steamship line; and the third letter or letters would be X T S, or any other letter or group of letters adopted to represent the name of the vessel."

"Mr. Armstrong explained that the bureau of navigation has completed arrangements with the Berne bureau for the assignment of call letters to all American wireless ship and shore stations, so that there will be no duplications. When the readjustments are made, after all call letters have been submitted, bulletins will be issued for the information of all nations entering the agreement. The hundreds of calls will be made of single letters and groups in order to prevent duplications."

PLAN TO REORGANIZE
MILITARY SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, July 8.—A series of conferences of experienced officers of the Army, chiefs of bureaus, Senators and Representatives, including possibly the heads of the two Military Committees of Congress, will begin at the War Department tomorrow with a view to getting together upon a general measure of reorganization for the whole military establishment.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Physicians Prescribe Castoria.

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: 1st, The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; 2nd, That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; 3rd, It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for castor oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any opium, morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrup, Balaam's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc.
This is a good deal for a medical journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.
Hall's Journal of Health.

"Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."
WILLIAM BELMONT, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."
B. A. BUCHANAN, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

"I take pleasure in recommending your Castoria, having recommended its use in many instances, and consider it the best laxative that could be used, especially for children."
NATHANIEL E. KING, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria for infantile stomach disorders, I can heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children." J. B. KILGORE, M. D., New York City.
